OFFICERS SEARCH FARMS FOR BODIES OF MURDERED PEOPLE AFTER WOMAN'S CONFESSION

Mrs. Frances Sheldon Relates Strange Story and Investigation FollowsONE CASE IS NOW ON TRIAL*Jury to Act on Accusations of Woman Made Against Brother in District Court

Steele, N. D., July 23.—The remarkable story told to authorities here by Frances Sheldon, in a "confession" to the state's attorney here, that there are 26 bodies buried on a farm south of Steele, has caused authorities to send out men in an effort to locate the bodies.

The authorities believe that they will find the bodies of Ed. Letzke, a hall insurance agent, and the body of an alleged child of Mrs. Frances Clayton Sheldon, born out of wedlock, whom James C. Clayton is accused of having murdered.

Blood-Stained Club

When the investigation was first started she told the officials in which corner of the Clayton home to dig for a blood-stained club which she said her father had used to kill the baby and insurance agent.

The hunters followed her directions and found the club, which the state claims was used for the killing. In digging for the bodies the daughter has told the officials to dig in seven or eight different places. When the first excavation failed to reveal the skeletons, she said that she was deceiving them and indicated another place, which she said was the real location of the buried bodies.

Said He Would Leave

Claims are made that Letzke, the insurance agent, told Braddock people he was going to leave for Alaska about the time the murder is supposed to have occurred. No trace of him has been found as yet. When last seen he was going to head toward the Clayton farm, supposedly to see Frances, it was alleged.

George Musson declares that farther investigations are being carried on, but nothing definite has been learned. The confession of the daughter says that more murders have occurred. In seeking to solve the tangled web and thus will discover any traces of more murders. If they were committed, search for the bodies will be started again as soon as the present trial ends.

Brother Faces Trial

The trial of Roy Clayton, 26 years old son of James Clayton, started in the Kidder district court yesterday. Roy is charged with criminal assault on his sister about July 25, 1918. George Musson, state attorney for Kidder county is prosecuting the case before Judge W. L. Nussle.

All the evidence was brought in on Thursday and the arguments by the state were the opening feature of the trial today. Musson spoke for 40 minutes, reviewing the evidence. Thorp then took the floor and started in hot and heavy on the defense.

The Witnesses

The principal witnesses called yesterday were: Frances Clayton, (who married Ted Sheldon), Laura Clayton, (14-year-old sister), Ted Sheldon, (husband of Frances Clayton), Mrs. J. B. Crowell, Miss Anna Stein, Fred Young, Mrs. Sheldon, (mother of Ted Sheldon), Mrs. Van Nourse, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Clayton, Mrs. John Clayton, (mother of Roy Clayton—being tried), Mrs. H. B. Schultz and perhaps six or seven more.

The submission of evidence yesterday was conducted behind closed doors.

Visited Brother

Laura Clayton took the stand and told how she and Frances took some milk down to their brother, who was "batching it" near the homestead. The state, and Frances Clayton, claim the violation occurred at this time, about July 25, 1918. Laura, the younger daughter, declared that Roy sent her home and made Frances stay with him at the shack.

The defense, on the other hand, maintain that Roy was working for a neighboring farmer at the time.

The state attempted to show that Roy Clayton is and was a degenerate so far they have not definitely proven their point.

Does Not Testify

An expert psychologist, Hotchkiss, was brought down from Jamestown yesterday and it was thought that the state would present his opinion regarding the mental status of Clayton. It appears as though his deductions were not satisfactory. At any rate he returned to Jamestown without appearing in court.

The defense attempted to show that the character of the principal witness for the state, Frances Clayton or Mrs. Sheldon, was not of the best.

Under the date of Aug. 29, 1919, the register of deeds for Kidder county has filed an agreement between Guy Sheldon and Frances Clayton in which Sheldon agrees to pay her $12 a month for 12 years. G. W. Lathrop and Roy P. Logan of Bismarck signed as sureties.

Changes Statement

In the trial Frances Clayton testified that she was not sure but thought

HARDING STAND ON LEAGUE TO BE MADE TOPIC

Will be Made Chief Point of Next Stage in Political Campaign

Marion, O., July 23.—Senator Harding's stand on the league of nations outlined yesterday in his speech formally accepting the Republican nomination for the presidency was expected today by his managers here to furnish the chief of bone of contention during the next stage of the political campaign.

His position on the league and other issues and the strain of potification day over the candidate planned to take a rest. He had no important political leaders on his calling list and he hoped during the day to find time for a game of golf.

Kearney Hope, Republican member of the Tennessee legislature, will support ratification of the woman suffrage amendment was expressed today by Senator Harding in a telegram to John Smith, a Republican member of the senate of that state.

The message was sent in reply to one from Senator Houck, asking advice.

After W. J. Bryan refused to accept the nomination for the presidency, the prohibitionists nominated Aaron S. Watkins, of Germantown, O., as the candidate.

Lincoln, Neb., July 23.—With the national convention finished and a ticket placed in the field for the fall campaign prohibition delegates were on their way home and the newly elected national committee were making plans for the campaign.

After W. J. Bryan refused to accept the nomination for the presidency, the prohibitionists nominated Aaron S. Watkins, of Germantown, O., as the candidate.

KEEP POLICIES GOVERNOR TELLS EX-SERVICE MEN

Governor Frazier has issued an open letter to all ex-service men in the state advising them to keep their government insurance.

In view of the excellent value of the policy and the necessity for such protection, I recommend and urge that this opportunity be taken advantage of by all who are eligible to participate in the benefits such as a gratuity, government alone can give to those who safeguarded their country in time of peril.

The Governor's open letter explains the various policies and the methods by which they can be converted.

WOMAN'S NUDE BODY FOUND IN STATION TRUNK

New York, July 23.—The nude body of a woman jammed in a trunk was found today by employees of the American Railway Express company among the unclaimed baggage in the company's East Forty-fourth street warehouse.

The trunk was received here from Detroit June 17.

Believing that the trunk contained perishable merchandise, one of the expressmen opened it and found the woman's body. The body had been jammed into the trunk and the clothes apparently had been thrown in afterward. There were no marks of violence on the body, express company employees said.

The police immediately took possession of the trunk and its contents for investigation.

CITY MOVES TO CONDEMN WATER COMPANY PLANT

Instructs City Attorney to Institute Proceedings and Considers Ordinance RepealingSALE OFFER IS REJECTED*Water Company's Proposition is Read to Commission—Special Attorneys Named

An ordinance repealing the ordinance granting a franchise to the Bismarck Water Supply company and amending ordinances was introduced and read for the first time at the city commission meeting last night. The action followed the rejection of the water company's offer to sell the plant to the city and adoption of a resolution instructing the city attorney, H. C. O'Hare, to institute condemnation proceedings to acquire the property of the water company and the employment of Newton, Dullam and Young as special counsel in the matter.

The meeting of the commission last night was a special meeting, called to consider the water situation. All commissioners were present except Commissioner Bertsch. P. C. Remington, chairman of the newly appointed committee on improvements of the commercial club, was present and discussed the matter with the commissioners.

The offer of the Bismarck Water Supply company to sell the plant, made by Miller, Zuger and Tildon, attorneys for the company, was read. The letter follows:

"In response to your request of the Bismarck Water Supply company for a price from the water company on its entire plant at Bismarck with the view of the purchase by the city of Bismarck of the water company's plant at Bismarck, the Bismarck Water Supply company does hereby offer to sell its entire water supply plant in the city of Bismarck, N. D., to the city of Bismarck, provided that this offer be accepted within 60 days from the date hereof, for the sum of $592,890.00.

Expresses Par Value

"This amount expresses the par value of the outstanding stock and bonds of the company, plus the amount each outlay of the company in connection with the recent water works rate hearing before the board of railroad commissioners."

The offer was dated July 20, 1920. The offer was in the hands of the water company, of which John A. Larson is chairman. The committee recommended rejection of the offer. The ordinance repealing the franchise then was read. It provided for the repeal of ordinance No. 188, approved May 11, 1905, granting a license and franchise to the company, to lay water mains and pipes in the streets, ordinance No. 268, approved Oct. 18, 1915, granting a license and franchise, ordinance No. 271, approved Dec. 27, 1915, amending the ordinance granting a license and franchise and concluded: "are hereby expressly repealed, and the said ordinance and each of them are hereby declared null and void."

Resolution Adopted

The following resolution of the commission, President Lucas, Commissioner French, Thompson and Larson voted for the ordinance. It was stated that it may be amended later to set out fully the reasons of the commission. Eight days must elapse before the second reading of the ordinance.

The resolution instructing the city attorney to institute proceedings then was adopted. It stated that the "city attorney of the city be and hereby is directed to institute condemnation proceedings at once to acquire the property of the Bismarck Water Supply company, or of any other persons or corporations, for the purpose of securing a municipal water supply for said city, and that he is directed to take such other proceedings and to institute such other suits as may be necessary or proper to secure a municipal water supply, or an adequate fire protection for said city."

Mr. Remington expressed his approval of the action taken. He told the commissioners that he had talked to Frank Mithollan and Roy Larson, members of the committee, and that they are in accord with the action. Mr. Mithollan is a member of the state railroad commission.

"They are right in for anything that is for the betterment of Bismarck," said Mr. Remington. "They didn't think that there was any use waiting for the decision in the rate case."

There is no politics in the matter, Mr. Remington said, the matter being a necessary progressive step for the city.

"If they'd take the capital away and we set the bridge this will be the best city in North Dakota in ten years," he said.

The business was handled with little patch. There were no operators present and the business was transacted with little discussion.

COST HIM $25 BUT LIFE WAS SPARED

Toledo, July 23.—It cost Ora D. Knight here, $25 because his life was spared. Ora drove his automobile into a locomotive steaming down the track. He was in great danger. Next day the judge fined him 25 cents for reckless driving. Cops say Ora had the talent of ginger on his breath when all this happened.

WAVE OF HEAT DOES LITTLE CROP DAMAGE

Hot Winds Advances Harvest. According to Reports From County AgentsTHERMOMETER HITS 102!*Local People Get Relief in Cool Evening, and Make Assault on Ice Cream Stands

Bismarck sweltered in the hottest weather in years yesterday afternoon, but business men and farmers breathed easier when the threatened disastrous hot winds gave way to a cool wave last night and lower temperatures today. The high mark yesterday was reached at 5 p. m. when the government thermometer stood at 102.

Some damage to grain was done by the extreme heat, but it is not believed to be serious or very extensive. The damage done by local people in attacking mountains of ice cream yesterday afternoon and last evening cannot be estimated, however.

Advances Harvest

The heat wave extended over the entire western section of the state. County agents of Stark county and Emmons county, in response to requests for information from The Tribune, give today's forecast:

"Dickinson—Hot winds which visited this area yesterday were of short duration and will not greatly reduce yield. Temperature fell rapidly after one o'clock. Damage consists of drying out grain so that it will be some lighter. Harvest advanced a few days. Large acreage of corn and millet not injured. Harvest will begin in ten days or two weeks.

Leroy Moomaw, Dickinson, Substation."

The telegram from H. O. Sauer, of Linton, said: "No apparent damage from hot winds as yet. Grain ripening fast. Cutting of rye and barley begun."

Comparative Temperatures

In recent years only two days have been hotter than yesterday. On July 28, 1917, the temperature rose to 107. And back in 1919, a temperature of 107 was reached on July 15.

The temperatures yesterday, as recorded by the U. S. Weather Bureau each hour, were:

At noon 95 degrees.	91 degrees
1 p. m.	94 degrees
2 p. m.	94 degrees
3 p. m.	94 degrees
4 p. m.	100 degrees
5 p. m.	102 degrees

The humidity yesterday was around 58. This was about normal, and bears out the assertion that the dry climate counteracts the high temperatures reached.

Others Feel It

According to W. Roberts, weather bureau observer, a person in good health sitting in the shade with a slight breeze blowing would have had

ACCEPT AWARD UNDER PROTEST; STRIKE AVERTED

Rail Union Chiefs Leave After Conclusion of ConferenceTELEGRAPHERS HOLD BACK*Strike Vote Expected to be Taken by This Branch, Claiming Unfairness

Chicago, July 23.—Railway union executives left Chicago today following a three-day conference at the conclusion of which it was decided by all of the recognized 16 unions except one, the Order of Railway Telegraphers, to accept under protest the railway's labor board's wage award, seven voting for a referendum of the individual unions.

The telegraphers referred the award to their membership with a strike proposition.

The organizations which accepted the award expressed dissatisfaction with the amount of increases granted by the board, but decided on acceptance in order, they stated, to receive the back pay due them under the provisions of award. Leaders said they would present a new request for further increase in wages to meet what they considered a "fair wage."

Chicago Discrimination

The order of railroad telegraphers, in a statement, declared that they "apparently had been unjustly discriminated against by the board without any explanation for this discrimination." They received a smaller amount than any other organization

ENDORSE MEN FOR ELECTION IN FALL FIGHT

Committee of 21 Names a Ticket Which It Plans to Support in the Fall

Grand Forks, July 23. The joint committee of Twenty-one in session here today endorsed J. F. T. O'Connor of Grand Forks, for governor in the fall election.

John F. McGrath, of Fargo, was endorsed for lieutenant governor. Rhinhardt Kampling, of Crosby, for attorney general, and Roy Chisholm, of Pembina, for auditor.

The committee also endorsed Thomas Hall and John Steen, independent candidates nominated for secretary of state and treasurer respectively, in the primary election.

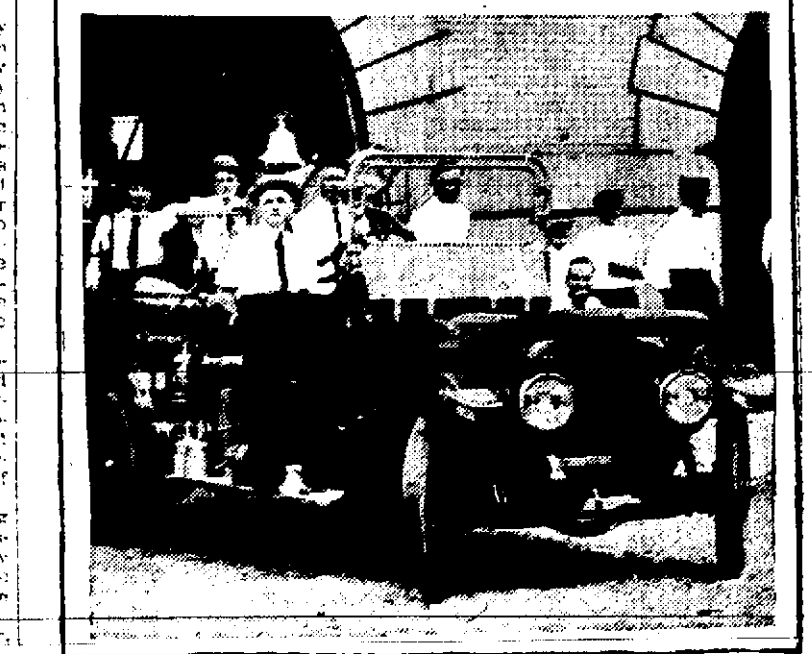

This afternoon the committee will endorse candidates for commissioner of agriculture and labor, two for the railroad commission and one for the governorship. The independents endorsed J. P. Williams, of Fargo, for railroad commissioner, June 30.

The composition of the committee was given as seven Republicans, seven Democrats and seven representatives of the Independent Voters' association.

It was understood that Republicans were to be selected as candidates for commissioner of agriculture and two railroad commissioners.

The situation regarding United States senator and Congressman was being considered this afternoon.

BUSINESS MEN TURN FIREMEN

Memphis, Tenn. When firemen walked out here, volunteers walked in. Bankers, other men organization presidents, took up the job of protecting Memphis from fire when, after a long period of agitation, the city's firefighters offered a blanket resignation. The salaries paid the volunteers are being given to charity. The picture shows the day left at the station, in command of Edwin Furber, chief of the Memphis fire department, and one of the volunteer's citizens. He was a colored in the Fourth Tennessee Infantry and in command during the race riots at Knoxville last year. State troops have been called to guard against rioting.

ELEVEN CATS ALL THIS HOME WANTS

Meriden, Conn., July 23.—"Notice to the Public," reads a newspaper advertisement here. "Please do not leave any more cats at 26 Lewis ave., as we have all we need." "Every day or two somebody leaves a cat on our steps and we have to take care of it," complained Mrs. Nathan Greene, who inserted the ad. "We have 11 now."

RESOLUTE TAKES LEAD AT START OF RACE TODAY

Defender Gets Away First at the Start of Race Against Shamrock IVWIN TODAY OR CUP GOES*American Sloop Sets the Pace on First Leg of 30 Mile Course*RESOLUTE WINS

Sandy Hook, July 23. Resolute won today's international cup race after a spectacular finish and tied, two to two, with Shamrock in fight for America's cup.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 23.—Defending America's cup—first across the line today at the start of the fourth international yacht race which she must win to prevent, present rival—Thomas Lipton's Shamrock IV, from capturing the priceless pewter trophy, won to the starting signal sounded at 1 p. m. the Resolute crossed at 1:00:03 just ahead of Shamrock. Then both plunged forward on the first ten-mile leg of the 30-mile triangular course and beat to windward down the Jersey shore. It was Shamrock today that hung back and allowed Resolute to set the pace. Capt. Burton of the challenger was very nearly handicapped, having only 4 seconds to get over the line within the two minutes allowed after the starting signal.

Both yachts crossed on the starboard tack and Resolute at once began to tack and allowed Shamrock to start both tacked to port, with Resolute 200 yards to windward, going quite fast and Shamrock almost becalmed.

Resolute Ahead

At 1:30 the wind, after having increased at 8 knots, went back into the southwest, making it dead about the first turn with Resolute half a mile to windward and going faster than Shamrock, which seemed soggy.

As Shamrock was 25 cent later than Resolute in crossing the line and as she must give her a time handicap of 25 minutes and 40 seconds she must finish in 18 minutes and 18 seconds ahead of the defender to win and 6 minutes and 17 seconds to tie.

Shamrock Picks Up

At 1:50, when nearly down to the Harlem highlands, Shamrock had picked up with the aid of small baby jib topsail and was doing better in the breeze which had dropped back to 6 knots.

Apparently the skippers did not find the wind they expected along the Jersey shore, but they had the advantage of the tide and kept heading in. Shamrock cut down some of her rivals by a tack inshore, but at 1:55 the American sloop was still quite a piece to weather.

Resolute crossed Shamrock's bows at 2:07 and then came about at the starboard tack, planted squarely on the challenger's quarter. After this maneuver wireless reports said that the Resolute was about 70 yards ahead. At 2:14 it looked as if Resolute might be able to stretch the first mark. Shamrock was behind and to leeward.

Still Leads

The Resolute was leading after 29 miles of the race had been covered. The Shamrock gained steadily, but very slowly down the second leg but a few miles from the finish it seemed that the Shamrock could not pass the Resolute.

At 3:30 the Resolute was leading by one-half mile.

The first ten miles leg of the race was a bout to windward under the shadow of the Jersey highlands, where they were aided by the tide. The Resolute led most of the way by a quarter to half a mile.

The Resolute reached the turning point and swung around on the next leg two minutes and 11 seconds ahead of the Shamrock.

U. S. ATTACKED FOR THWARTING REVOLT EFFORT

G. O. P. PLATFORM HAS PLANKS TO AID IOWA FARMS

Des Moines, Iowa, July 23.—N. E. Kendall of Albion was named the Republican nominee for governor of Iowa at the party state convention today, on the third ballot. Other nominees chosen were: Lieutenant Governor, John H. Himmelfarb; Attorney General, B. J. Gibson; of Corning, and Railroad Commissioner, F. R. Woodruff, Knoxville.

Just before adjournment the convention adopted the state platform, which sweepingly indicates the national platform of the party.

The platform also contains a plank pledging the party to support legislation to stimulate and encourage operation of farms by owners; an inquiry into the system of land tenure with a view of providing a way for long term leases; efforts to assist the tenant farmer to buy working capital, and securing farmers' unneeded funds to collective bargaining through cooperative associations.

Another plank favors legislation to compel railroads to grant sites and trackage on right of ways to cooperative elevators, warehouses and stock yards.

DIRECT APPEAL DISPATCHED TO SOVIET RUSSIA

Coalition Cabinet Formed as Result of Critical Situation Facing NationFEAR A POLISH INVASION*Outlook is Increasingly Menacing According to Reports to London Papers*(BULLETIN)

Washington, July 23.—Poland has asked the state department to formally announce to the world "the morale support" of the United States to Poland in its battle with the Russian Bolsheviks. The suggestion also was made by President Wilson, would be welcomed and would do much to stiffen the morale of the Polish people.

Warsaw, July 23. (By the Associated Press.) Poland has sent armistice proposals direct to the Soviet government at Moscow.

After these proposals had been dispatched by wireless at 2 o'clock this afternoon by the national council of defense, a new coalition cabinet was formed under the premiership of M. W. Wites. The new cabinet has the support of the socialist party.

The direct negotiations begun with the Soviet are on the question of an immediate armistice along the entire front of about 720 miles. The proposals were wirelessly after failure to reach any direct conclusion after dealing with the Bolshevik foreign minister through Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain.

The proposals were signed by Prince Eugene Satcha, the minister of foreign affairs.

Outlook Menacing

London, July 23.—The Polish outlook appears increasingly menacing according to statements in morning newspapers. Poland not only is extremely hard-pressed by the Bolshevik armies, but her territory is already invaded.

One of the papers prints news purported to have been received by the British foreign office which says the Bolshevik right wing has occupied Sorny, northwest of Grodno, and about 30 miles from the nearest point on the German frontier. The Bolshevik capture of Grodno is confirmed and the Reds also are reported to have taken Vilelosok, 110 miles from Warsaw, while in the south they have entered eastern Galicia.

The ministry of Premier Grabsky is reported to have resigned with the administration intrusted to extreme radicals in the belief that such a government would be able to make better terms with Soviet Russia.

Fortress Captured

London, July 23. (By the A. P.)—(Captured by Soviet troops of the fortress Dubnow, one of the Volhynia group of fortifications defending the southeast Polish border is announced in Thursday's official statement from Moscow, received today by wireless.

The Bolsheviks also have taken the railway town of Slonim, 70 miles southeast of Grodno.

CLAIM LINE HOLDS

Warsaw, July 23. The Polish line yesterday still ran to the east to Grodno, it is announced officially. The Polish front was holding immediately south of the Pripiet and in Polesia, but further south a breach in the line effected by Bolshevik cavalry is reported.

FOCH NOT TO GO

Paris, July 23.—Marshal Foch will not go to Warsaw unless the French and British mission now en route indicate his presence and subsequent developments show that military aid by the allies is required to prevent Bolshevikism from overrunning Poland.

Some hope is expressed in official circles that direct proposals may make allied intervention necessary.

BRITISH ENVOY AVOWS EMPIRE'S HOPE FOR PEACE

Tells Newspaper Publishers in Address that U. S. and Britain Ought to be Friends

HOPE LAST WAR FOUGHT

Reasonable Co-operation in Expansion of Foreign Trade Advocated by Geddes

Asheville, N. C., July 22.—The making of international relations of the future is largely in the hands of the newspapermen of America and the British empire, Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States, declared yesterday in an address at the annual meeting of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association.

The hope of mankind that the last great war has been fought, Sir Auckland said, could be turned by the newspaper writers of the English-speaking world either to cruel mockery or to advance toward realization.

Mutual understanding between the British commonwealth of nations and the United States matters more to the English speaking people and to the world than anything else at the present time, Sir Auckland declared, because without understanding there can be no friendship and without friendship there can be no cooperation.

"Would it be in your interest, would it be less costly for you to effect the expansion of your foreign trade, in the teeth of British opposition?" asked the ambassador. "Would it pay you less if you effected it in reasonable cooperation with us? Would it cost you less to build a navy commensurate to your needs in opposition to us or more in agreement with us? It helps you to find difficulties largely of your own creation, reactions to your actions in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, in India and in every land in which the British flag flies as well as in every land in which the British trader does business and the British banks have branches? Would it harm you to find friends there and have to meet only the sort of competition that exists between rival concerns of the same nationality? On the lowest basis, would it pay you if Britain were to develop cotton growing on a great scale in her African territories because of a sense of instability created by a feeling of American lack of friendliness? Would it help you toward a solution of your problems in the Pacific if Australia were to become hostile to your interests?

Pays to Be Friendly.

"On the other side would it help us to be unfriendly to you? Again on the lowest basis would it pay us? The answer in every case is 'no.'"

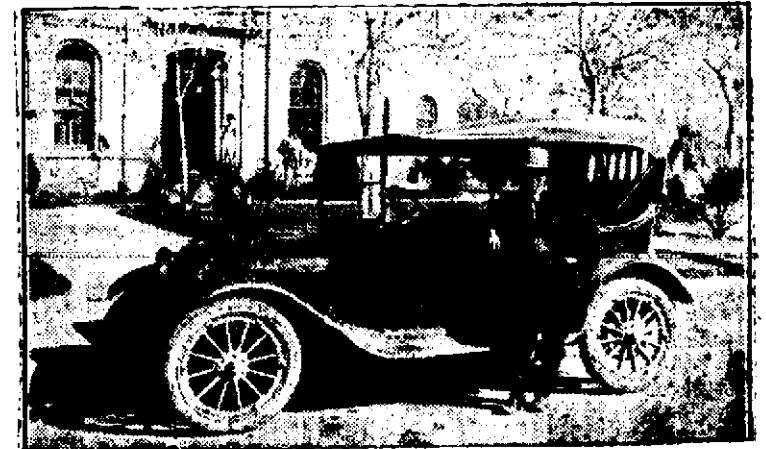

"Then we have the great political and socio-economic problems which require solution—problems as wide as the world and as deep as the human heart. Will they be helped if you and we are unfriendly and bickering with one another? Will it help you or us if large areas of the world lapse from civilization to semi-civilization because you and we fail to cooperate with one another and with the nations whose social existence is threatened with economic chaos in which they find themselves? I know of no good which can flow from lack of friendship between our nations. I know of no human good which might not be gained for ourselves and for the world by your and our cordial cooperation with one another.

"Here is the problem:—Cooperation which is urgently needed between us is only possible on a basis of friendship and friendly trust. International friendship is only possible on a basis of mutual respect and understanding.

Wants Peace Makers.

"You gentlemen and all of your profession have it in your power, as have no others, to foster that respect and understanding between the nations. Practically everybody reads some daily or weekly paper. A few read bound books. A mere handful studies history. On you and on your fellows throughout the English speaking world the burden is laid. By force of circumstances, by the nature of your calling, you cannot escape. In your

VILLA LIKED CAR HE ESCAPED IN AND HE TELLS AMERICAN REASONS

Newspapers in every section of the country were just recounting the remarkable experiences of Fred G. Hugo of Eagle Pass, Tex., who was kidnapped by Gen. Villa, held for $10,000 and then mysteriously released on condition that he "would keep his mouth shut," when a Detroit motor car manufacturer's representative arrived in Eagle Pass to consult his local dealer. One of the first persons the Detroit man met was Hugo himself. He found him at the dealer's place of business making inquiries about the delivery of a new car.

"You see," said Hugo, "Villa liked my car so well that he decided to keep it. I've got to have another."

And as Hugo's promise to the bandit general required him only to keep secret the time, place and conditions under which he was released, he consented to narrate some of the hitherto unpublished details of his unusual episode.

Villa and his band had finished looting the town of Musquiz, hands largely is the making of the international relations of the future. The hope of mankind that the last great war has been fought could be turned by you either to cruel mockery or to advance toward realization.

"With all the earnestness at my command I beg you in the name of all who like myself are devoting their lives to the furtherance of the cause of international peace to enroll voluntarily in the army of the international peace makers. Try with all your skill and arts to make the nations realize their common essential humanity. Let them see each other as they are, groupings of plain, simple people who love and hate and fear and live and die very much in the same way in all the countries whose civilization is based on Europe.

"Get them to see that that civilization is indissolubly linked at its foundation with the Christian ethic—other civilizations were not and are not, but ours is and assumes in all its customs—conventions a fair distribution of effective Christianity among the people. Get your readers to realize how civilization has been advanced by the genius of the few whose life works have benefited the many without regard for the few whose life works have benefited the many without regard to national frontiers.

Stand Together.

"Rich and precious is our heritage, but we hold only a life rent in our possession. It belongs to our children and to theirs and to the unnumbered generations of the future.

"If you and we stand firm together the heritage will be safe, even though the world we have known should crumble around us, but if the unspeakable horror of conflict should arise between us the heritage will be destroyed. You who mould the public thought are the most influential of the world trustees. I beg you more consciously and more accurately day by day and year by year to serve the trust and preserve the heritage of ordered freedom and human liberty."

AUTHOR OF "WHAT'S WORLD COMING TO" ANSWERS QUESTION "DARNED IF I KNOW"

Rupert Hughes Admits Its a
Puzzler, but He has Certain Ideas on the Subject and He Expounded Them.

In his latest novel Rupert Hughes, famous novelist, playwright, sociologist, and historian, asks in the title, "What's the World Coming To?" And so Major Hughes was asked to answer the question himself, which he does in the following interview.

BY LORRY A. JACOBS.
N. E. A. Staff Correspondent.

New York, July 22.—Are people any better or any worse than they ever were?

Does the future hold hope or dark despair?

These were the questions I asked Rupert Hughes and he proceeded to answer them in characteristic Hughes style in one full swoop.

"Darned if I know!" said he. "But I have certain ideas on the subject. We're living in the same world that existed thousands of years ago. It hasn't changed much except for the telephone, the telegraph, the airplane, fast transit and other conveniences, all of which bring about other inconveniences. Human nature hasn't changed at all.

"The world isn't any better than it ever was. Nor is it any worse. Men aren't any more devilish than they ever were, nor are they any nearer to being angels.

"Pick me out any saint, or any fiend, or any average person and I will guarantee to find his match in any other country or period of which we have read.

"In the twentieth century before Christ men were complaining of the same evils they protest today and were just as pure and kind of heart. They had strikes and panics; decadence, progress, remorse, ruthlessness, pity, tyranny and benevolence.

BIG AIRSHIP FOR TOURISTS

Britain's R-80 May Carry Passengers Over Battlefields—Length, 535 Feet.

Barrow, England.—A ship built here for the admiralty, will be launched in two or three weeks. It embodies the latest improvements in aircraft design, and it is stated, could fly across the Atlantic with ease.

The vessel is 535 feet in length and 70 feet wide. Its lifting power is 38 tons. Four engines, each of 240-horsepower, will give it a maximum speed of 65 miles an hour. It will carry a crew of 15.

Originally intended for war purposes, the gun platforms and fighting paraphernalia have been discarded that more accommodation may be provided for passengers. It may be used to carry tourists over the battlefields of France and Flanders.

Some Nut.

'Twas Said:-

A farmer had persuaded one of his town friends to accompany him in the two-wheeled cart on a jaunt into the country. The horse seemed to resent the stranger abroad and taking the bit between his teeth, bolted.

"I say Bill," said the townsman, "I'd give five dollars to be out of this."

"Don't be so free with your money," replied his friend; "you may be out for nothing in a minute."

Detroit board of commerce, delivered the welcoming address today. Sen. Charles Townsend, of Michigan, and Walter Parker, of the Mississippi Valley association, spoke at the opening day's sessions.

Would Aid Farms
"Future historians will give the builders of a waterway from the Great Lakes to the Atlantic an equal place in history with the inventors of railroads and steamboats," said United States Senator Townsend.

"Not only is a waterway to the sea necessary to keep the products of the farms in the middle west from rotting and business from a state approaching stagnation but 1,750,000,000 horse power of energy will be harnessed when the work is completed. Sale of the power alone would pay for the project within a comparatively short time.

Aid From West
Aid of the Mississippi Valley association in the proposed development of the St. Lawrence was pledged by Mr. Parker in his address.

Referring to reported opposition in the east to the deepwater plan he said "economic freedom for each section of the country" was the object of the organization which he represents and that the organization would throw its whole support to the movement.

REMOVAL CASE TAKEN BEFORE SUPREME COURT

New Rockford People to File Motion to Vacate Old Judgment, It is Announced

The supreme court of the state will be asked to put the four-year-old petition of the citizens of New Rockford for the changing of the location of the state capital from Bismarck to that city on the ballot at the fall election.

J. F. Richards, representative of the Community club of New Rockford, today served notice on attorneys of the intention to file a motion to vacate the supreme court judgment of four years ago denying a vote on the petition.

A few days ago Secretary of State Hall refused to place the question before the voters on the basis of the old petition, because four years ago the supreme court held that the law providing for the initiation of constitutional amendments was not self-operative. This decision was reversed by a court later.

Mr. Richards declared that the supreme court changed the previous construction of law, and therefore the court is asked to vacate the old judgment.

JAMAICA REAL BAT PARADISE

Live in Extensive Caverns, From 10,000 to 15,000 in a Group.

IMPORTANT ECONOMIC VALUE

Scientist Finds Twenty Different Varieties—Some Kill Insects and Are Useful to Man—Others Destroy Fruit.

New York.—Returning recently from the island of Jamaica, in the West Indies, where he spent four months on a scientific expedition, H. E. Anthony, associate curator of mammals at the Museum of Natural History, brought back with him many fine specimens of bats, which are numerous on that and other islands in the West Indies.

"The only mammals native to the islands today," Mr. Anthony said, "are twenty species of bats and one species of rodent. These different bats range in size from small bats, with a wing spread of six inches, up to very large bats, with a wing spread of from twenty-eight to thirty inches."

People in the United States, where bats are comparatively rare animals, have no idea of the variety and abundance of them in such a place as Jamaica, or of the important economic value of the bat. They are either insect-eating or feed on fruits. The insect-eating varieties are small for the most part, and have considerable value as insect destroyers. They feed on mosquitoes and on a great variety of winged insect life, many of which are obnoxious to man or injurious to agriculture.

Homes in Caves.
The island is composed largely of limestone, and caves are of frequent occurrence, and these caves are the abode of by far the greater part of the bat population. Many caves are small, but not infrequently caves are found which are several miles in length. Some such have great subterranean chambers through which rivers run, passing completely under some small mountain chain; others have a series of communicating chambers through which a person may walk for hours without retracing his steps. It is in such places that innumerable hosts of these peculiar animals may be found, and it is no exaggeration to estimate their numbers in a single large cave as 10,000 or 15,000 individuals.

When a person enters such a cave and disturbs the inmates a scene of wild confusion ensues, in which a veritable whirlwind of flying forms may deluge the intruder and rush about through every part of the cave. To one to whom a bat is a repulsive and diabolical creature such an intimacy would be highly distasteful, but to one who understands the bat it is a most interesting experience. Such a meeting affords an opportunity for an intimate insight into the animal's home life. While the flight of the bat under normal circumstances is perfectly noiseless, in such chambers in which thousands of individuals are flying wildly about the noise of their wings sounds like a great wind storm.

In the caves are great piles of guano deposited by the bats. These deposits sometimes are 15 or 20 feet thick and are valuable as fertilizer; it is used by natives on fields. In a good cave many tons may be taken out without exhausting the supply. There are species of bats, such as the fruit-eating, which are not so useful to man. Some of the larger bats belong to this group. They come out of their homes an hour before dark and fly about fruit trees searching for ripe fruit. They eat a great variety of fruits, depending on the season and locality. They eat bananas, raspberries, sweetop, ripe coffee berries, roseapples and many other varieties.

Fish-Eating Bat.
If the fruit is small they eat it loose and fly away with it, but if it is large they cling to it and eat it on the tree. Some of the smaller fruit-eating bats are very highly developed for the purpose of living on fruits, and some have very long tongues; one such variety with a body not larger than two and a half or three inches has a tongue which may be protruded an inch and a half beyond the nose. A peculiar specimen is the so-called fish-eating bat, which has been observed at dusk flying low over the water and swooping from the surface minute crustaceans and marine forms.

Enemies of bats are owls which catch fruit-eating bats and the large snake box of the West Indies. Bats are social in habit and not solitary, and they have peculiar social characteristics. If four different varieties of bats are found in a cave, each kind keeps to its own group and does not fraternize with others. The same is true of sex. Clusters of males are in one group and clusters of females in another. Bats are nervous creatures, highly strung, and acute of hearing. They are among the oldest living mammals. Bats those who have studied them say, do not get tangled in one's hair, and they will not attack one, yet if grabbed they will bite, and the larger bats have sharp teeth.

There are more than 2,000 different varieties of bats in the world. The two major groups are divided into insect-eaters and the large fruit-eating bats.

TRAFFIC PRANK PROVES COSTLY FOR H. WENKEL

Henry Wenkel became an emergency traffic director for a time Saturday night, but it proved to be costly business. He was alleged to have acted as traffic officer at Fourth and Broadway, was arrested by Chief of Police Chris Martineson on a charge of disorderly conduct, and fined $5 and costs, making the total $10. There was no other charge except disorderly conduct for the bit of fun Wenkel enjoyed.

An unusual case was brought up in police court when several men were charged with shooting craps on the sidewalk at Fifth and Broadway. The practice has been broken up.

August Kroh, of Blue Grass, paid a fine of $10 and costs for drunkenness yesterday. A part of a big bottle of "mule" was confiscated by the court.

FLYING TO THE SOUTH POLE

The Terra Nova, which is carrying the Cope Party to the Antarctic main-land. Inset are pictures of Commander John L. Cope and Captain G. H. Wilkins, who will pilot the airplane.

N. E. A. Staff Special.
London, July 23.—To the South Pole by air!

This is the plan of the British Imperial Antarctic expedition, which will set sail under command of John L.

Cope from England this month. The Cope party is carrying the first airplane to the southern continent and plans a dash for the world's axial point this December.

Equipped with skis instead of landing wheels, the big plane piloted by Captain G. H. Wilkins, British air force, will carry two passengers, food for a month and photographic gear. Starting from New Harbor, on the mainland of the Polar continent, the ship will fly to the base of the Queen Alexandra mountains. Because with its load it will be too heavy to cross the mountains, a cache of fuel will be made here and picked up on the return trip.

Cope plans to use airplanes extensively for photographic charting. The expedition will be gone four and perhaps five years. Leaving here in July aboard Captain Scott's old ship, the "Terra Nova," the ship will touch Wellington, New Zealand, sail from there in October to the Macquarie Islands. Three men will be left here to carry on observations during the winter and the ship will proceed to Scott Island, leaving three men there.

Next the Terra Nova will anchor at New Harbor on the mainland and the main hut established. Thirty men will be left on the mainland to spend the winter studying the habits of the Emperor penguins and observing the weather.

The pole airplane flight will be attempted from this point. If it cannot be made then it will be delayed until January, 1922, and made from Cape Ann.

The Terra Nova will put back to Wellington February, 1921, and provision for four years. Then she will begin the circumnavigation of the continent. She will touch Cape Ann about February, 1922, push on during the short antarctic summer and winter somewhere between Cape Ann and Coats Land, arriving at Coats Land in February or March of 1923.

It will pick up the various parties the following two years.

Cope, who was surgeon with the famous Scott expedition, has been planning his expedition for more than a year. It will cost about $750,000 and is backed by the British government.

The chief purpose of the expedition is the mapping of the country and mining research. It is known that there is much coal, marble and some rubies in the region and Cope hopes to locate these deposits and also to locate the breeding places of South Atlantic whales.

The expedition will keep in touch with civilization through a powerful wireless station to be built on Macquarie Island.

TO ASSIST CUPID

Movement for "Mixed Clubs" in City of London.

Method Has Been Suggested to Check Decline in Marriage Rate, Which Is Viewed With Considerable Alarm.

Social reformers, bishops, clergymen and physicians are continually reminding us that in England we need "more marriage and earlier marriage." The postponement of the age of marriage among men until thirty or the beginning of middle age is not a healthy social sign.

In the middle class this deferment of wedlock is attributed chiefly to the increased difficulty in earning a sufficient income to support the family. The same factor comes into play among the skilled craftsmen who wish to attain a fair financial position before they undertake the responsibilities of parenthood. We find, therefore, that early marriage is the custom chiefly of the unskilled workers, casual laborers and the very poor.

The economic question is not the only barrier to early marriage and more marriage in the great middle class. Strange as it may appear, a vast number of men and women who wish to marry cannot find mates. Even in these days there are a multitude of men who have very few women acquaintances, and a still larger host of women who rarely enjoy the society of men. We are apt to forget that a large proportion of the inhabitants of the big cities are practically "strangers in the gates." Their "homes" are a bedroom in the suburbs, a boarding house or a little lock-up flat. They are country immigrants to the large towns, and in many instances they have not a single acquaintance in the place.

If we are really in earnest about the decline of the marriage rate and the deferment of matrimony, we should set about facilitating social intercourse between the sexes. The first practical step is the provision of "mixed clubs" under municipal control. Clubs, as they exist now, are simply internment camps for men or women, and there is no doubt that they tend to a further segregation of the sexes.

It is true that there are clubs in London where men and women can meet. But we require a very much larger number in the metropolis and in all parts of the provinces.

My own experience of mixed clubs is that they undoubtedly promote matrimony. They are a pleasant meeting place for young men and women, after the day's work. It is appalling that thousands of youths and maidens should have nowhere to frolic together in the evenings and no choice between the lonely lodging and the streets.

I would suggest also that every municipality should establish a marriage bureau and provide the candidates for wedlock with introductions.—From Continental Edition of London Mail.

Hot Days Derange Best of Stomachs

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for quick relief from stomach troubles. Let children try it!

IT is fascinating to growing girls to nibble at candy and accept invitations for sodas and ices, but in hot weather it is apt to destroy appetite for more wholesome food and leave the stomach deranged.

It is of utmost importance to see that the girl has regular daily elimination. At the first sign of headaches, biliousness, bad breath, you will know she has constipation. Do not wait for nature to adjust itself but give a teaspoonful of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and the symptoms will soon disappear. Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with Pepsin, and a bottle can be bought at any drug store. It is mild and gentle in action and does not gripe. The taste, too, is very agreeable.

Thousands of mothers will not give children anything else, and many retain Syrup Pepsin when nothing else will stay on the stomach. That was the experience of Mrs. Fillis of 460 N. Main.

St. Manchester, N. H., who had to discard all other laxatives because she could not keep them down. But she finds Syrup Pepsin suited to the system. This must be so generally as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest-selling remedy for constipation in the world, and it has brought relief to millions besides Mrs. Fillis. You should try it.

FREE Millions of people of all ages suffer from occasional or chronic constipation. Let them send name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 212 Washington Street, Monticello, N. Y., for a free sample bottle of his wonderful Syrup Pepsin. 8 million bottles were bought at drug stores last year, the largest sale in the world.

TELL SHIPS OF OCEAN NOISES

Secret Ears to Be Placed on Merchant Ships by the Government.

TEST PROVES IT A SUCCESS

Hydrophone, Government Controlled Invention, Can Explain Many Sea Mysteries—Tried Out on Destroyer.

New York.—In olden times when Chinese shipbuilders designed and constructed their lateen-rigged craft for war or commercial purposes, prominent and oftentimes ferocious "eyes" were located on either side of the bow.

Today modern America, now the leading nation in ship construction, is proposing to equip her merchant vessels with "ears," the location of which, like the eyes on the Chinese junk, are on the ship's bows, but under instead of over the water. While superstition induced the Chinaman to equip his ship so it could "see" its enemies and work its way into a safe port through shoal water, hidden rocks and through crowded waterways, science has designed the "ears" for the same purpose.

Test Is Made. With the destroyer Breckenridge equipped as a demonstration ship, 40 or more representatives of leading steamship lines have just had an opportunity to see and test the efficacy of the listening device. It is now a government-controlled invention, used on fighting ships during the war as a protection against submarines and officially designated by the navy as "the M. V. type, hydrophone." Its object is to disclose in surrounding waters the presence of other craft, to foretell the approach to shoal waters, appraise the navigator of the vicinity of lightships equipped with submarine bell signaling devices. It is expected also to disclose with a remarkable degree of accuracy the depth of water where in the ship so equipped is floating.

Tells Depth of Water. The apparatus includes 48 hydrophone receivers located in a tank of water in the bow of the vessel so that an equal sound is on either side. In the test the sound of the propellers of a steamer five miles distant was heard. The depth of the water is ascertained by listening to the noise made by the propellers of the vessel carrying the hydrophone as it is echoed back from the bottom of the sea. In depths beyond 100 fathoms however the hydrophone refuses to record. It was explained that as a matter of fact collisions occur near a coast line and at congested harbor entrances the inventors and officers of the navy predicted that its adoption will remove many of the hazards of navigation now caused by fog.

Dr. H. C. Hayes, formerly of Swarthmore college, said the device had been installed on one transport, Von Steuben, and on one occasion probably saved the ship from running aground on the Long Island shore during a heavy fog. Doctor Hayes also claims that the invention will enable a mariner to locate icebergs, through the reflecting back to the operator from the submerged portion of a dangerous berg the sound of the operating ship's own propellers.

BRIDGE WORK PRELIMINARIES ARE CARRIED ON

Bunk Houses and Other Buildings Completed for Actual Construction Work

SUPPLIES ARE RECEIVED

The actual work of building the new Bismarck-Mandan bridge will probably start within a month. It seems certain at this time that the temporary bridge will be in place by November 1.

At the present time the contracting company, the Foundation Company, is busy cleaning up the river banks and erecting the equipment necessary to carry on the large scale construction work. Buildings are being erected and machinery installed as fast as it can be brought to the site.

A switch of the Northern Pacific runs down along the river bank, so that machinery, cement, and supplies may be shipped direct to the river bank.

A wharf is being built on the bank so that easy access may be had to either bank by water.

In addition to these transportation facilities the company has a number of trucks on the job.

Fifty Men Working
H. P. O'Hagan is in charge of the work for the Foundation Company. A crew of fifty men are on the job at present under his direction. This is merely the preliminary outfit and the number of men will be increased later as housing facilities are improved and the actual construction work is commenced.

The work of clearing away the underbrush along the river bank is nearly done on this side and work is going along rapidly on cleaning up the opposite bank.

A good deal of machinery has arrived and is being placed in position. Concrete mixers, steam boilers, engines, and a complete store room are already on the edge of the river.

Bunk House Provided
A large boom derrick has been placed in position and is nearly ready to start swinging and lifting the materials into place for the foundation.

Bunk houses for the workmen are being built and the last of these will be done soon. Shower baths are being installed for the use of the men.

A complete commissary department is now in operation and the laborers will be fed at the camp.

The business office of the concern is finished and is well fitted out with everything from adding machines to a safe.

Clear Underbrush
Work on the opposite bank of the river has been started. The underbrush is being cleared now and a hoisting engine has been installed. More machinery and equipment will be placed on that bank at a later date.

A large quantity of lumber and other material will be required for the bridge and contracts for this material have been let by the concern. Sylvester and Daily, who operated a saw mill in the river bottoms last winter, have an order for about 500 cotton wood piles which will be used for the temporary bridging of the river while the piers are being constructed.

Other lumber and building materials firms have similar orders for large quantities of materials.

Though this work is not actual construction it is necessary before the real bridge work can go forward. When the foundations are started in a month the work is expected to progress rapidly and then the value of the present preparations will be evident.

RUN SPECIALS TO FORKS FAIR

Grand Forks, N. D., July 23.—Amusements form an important feature of the Grand Forks fair, which will conclude here tomorrow.

Many Minnesota people, as well as North Dakota people, are attending the fair. Home-coming day yesterday brought large crowds. Special trains were run from Langdon, Steele, Pembina and other towns.

INJURED IN AN AUTO ACCIDENT

Tony Aughey suffered a sprained wrist and bruises in an automobile accident last evening when the car in which he was riding crashed into a car driven by Frayne Baker, on Thayer street. In an effort to dodge another car, the driver of the car in which Aughey was riding struck the Baker car. Aughey was thrown out of the rear seat.

FROCK LIKE CLOUD WITH SILVER LINING

BY CORA MOORE.

New York's Fashion Authority
New York, July 22.—Like a cloud and its lining is this youthful, summery party frock of mist gray taffeta and silver lace. The lace which forms the straight skirt is so filmy it looks very much like a spider's web and permits the bow-knots of rose-colored ribbon applied to the net skirt underneath it to show through—the only bit of color in the gray of the whole gown.

Over the lace skirt is dropped an apron tunic of tulle frilled with narrow pleating. The tunic, half a yard in width, is tied in a butterfly bow with two long ends that fall well below the skirt and form the back of the tunic.

A simple elastic waist with lace undersleeves completes the frock, which, incidentally, Louise Huff wears in "Dangerous Paradise."

TOOK FORD FROM STEELE THURSDAY AND STRIPPED IT

Steele, N. D., July 23.—A new Ford car belonging to Harry Shiply was stolen from his garage between 9 p. m. Wednesday and 8 a. m. yesterday morning.

The car was driven about three miles out of town and then stripped of every removable piece of equipment. The tools, inner tubes, cushions, battery coil, cushions, horn and other accessories were removed. The car was brought back to Steele today.

The thieves have not been found, but a strange car went through Steele Wednesday with poor tires, no license and generally looking as though it needed a few replacements. It is thought that the occupants of it stole the Shiply Ford for the tires.

NONPARTISANS KEEP CONTROL OF COMMITTEE

Successful in Electing Majority of Republicans on State Central Committee

Butler reports from the counties of the state which held county committee meetings and elected members of the Republican state committee and which will select next week indicate that the Nonpartisans again will control the Republican state committee.

The division likely is to be 28 to 21 in favor of the league.

It is possible that Republicans in various counties will follow the action taken in Bismarck by the county organization in refusing to remain in a convention dominated by Nonpartisans and electing a separate committee, which claims to be the Right-Republican committee.

The Cass county convention held in Fargo adopted a resolution which each member was asked to subscribe to, reading as follows:

"We, each of us, elected as Republican precinct committeemen of Cass county North Dakota, at the primary election held on June 30 A. D. 1920, personally subscribe to the following statement by voting yes on the roll call thereon, and by voting no thereon or refusing to vote upon such roll call refuse to subscribe thereon:

"That I am a resident of the precinct from which I am elected and am otherwise qualified to accept and serve as a Republican precinct committeeman."

"That at the time of my election to such office I was and now am a member of the National Republican party and I believe in the principles for which it stands."

"That I approve the principles and policies, as set forth in the National Republican platform adopted at the recent National Republican convention held in Chicago and I do hereby pledge my support to Harding and Coolidge, the nominees of the convention."

"That I owe no obligation to any other organization whose principles, policies or plan of organization conflict with the principles, policies or plan of organization of the Republican party, and I do state in accepting the office to precinct committeeman that I pledge and will give by undivided attention to same."

WOBBLE CAUSES MIXUP IN TOWN IN SOUTH DAKOTA

Mitchell, S. D., July 23.—The first case of I. W. W. activities that have occurred in this neighborhood for several years was reported to the police early this morning. An unidentified man it was declared, had been held up, robbed and beaten by a number of I. W. W. because he did not have one of the organization's red membership cards.

The attack took place in a hay barn near the Milwaukee depot. When police arrived, the gunmen who had committed the assault as well as their victim had disappeared. The police, however, rounded up eight tramps, six of whom were members of the organization and had in their pockets paid up membership certificates. The men were locked up for 24 hours and then ordered out of town.

WOMAN DIES, 3 INJURED, IN CYCLONE

Section Near Anamoose Swept by Storm and Farm Buildings are Wrecked

IS ACCOMPANIED BY HAIL.
Anamoose, July 23.—Mrs. Emanuel Kandt was killed and her husband and Mr. and Mrs. A. Spitzer were injured in a cyclone which struck a territory ten miles southwest of here at 6:30 o'clock last evening.

Mrs. Kandt was found in her residence, her back broken.

All buildings destroyed. All of the buildings on the Kandt farm were destroyed. The only living things found on the farm were three little chickens. A hog, dog and goose were found disemboweled, while while another hog was found dead a half mile away.

The cyclone was accompanied by heavy rain and some hail. The wind blew about 65 miles an hour.

Telephone Poles Down
Telephone poles were blown down, isolating the community. The storm wrecked the large barn of Edward Larson from its foundation, killing two valuable horses, removed the building of Christie Meli, the barn of Christ Hirschorn, blew the chimney of the house of John Adam.

Every building on the Jacob Spitzer farm was destroyed. Mr. and Mrs. Spitzer were coming home with a load of hay. The wind took the running gear from under the load, tore the harness off the horses, and carried the running gear and harness a half mile.

On the Kandt farm a binder and plow were thrown three-fourths of a mile away.

Play Cards in Den of Lions to Win Wager

Berne.—Four young men of Montreux, Switzerland, made a bet that they would play a game of cards in a lions' den attached to a travelling menagerie. They climbed into the den, played a hand of cards, and once more rejoined the adjoining throng of their fellow citizens without experiencing the slightest molestation.

JAP WOULD BRING IN 40,000 MORE

San Francisco, July 23.—K. A. Kanazaki, secretary of the Japanese Association of America, told the immigration and naturalization committee of the House of Representatives that he believed in restriction of Japanese immigration in the United States, but that 30,000 to 40,000 more could properly be accommodated in addition to the 37,000 already here.

This additional number would help to bring the proportion of men and women to a fair basis, in his opinion and would not complicate racial or economic questions.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

HARDING'S ACCEPTANCE

Reconstruction is the keynote of the acceptance speech of Warren G. Harding, Republican presidential nominee. The domestic problems that confront the nation are emphasized more than the foreign policies which have had the center of the stage for the last two years to the almost utter exclusion of more important issues.

What America wants most is pledged in the speech; a formal and effective peace and a resumption of relations with our former foes. President Wilson has kept the nation out of peace because his scheme of internationalism has not found favor with the people of the United States. Senator Harding promises to end this impasse and open the way for a sane policy of reconstruction.

He is opposed to class legislation and stands firmly for a policy of equal justice for all. There is a pressing need in this day of class agitation for a pilot who can revert back and make effective the traditional policies of the Republican party.

The nation has had enough of personal government under the Wilson regime. Senator Harding promises to restore party government. The Republican party is militantly opposed to individual and autocratic rule.

There is a refreshing reaffirmation of Republican principles in his speech. The tariff policy under which the United States has prospered is to be restored to fit present needs if the Republicans are successful. There will also be a businesslike treatment of the transportation and currency problems as well as the labor issues. Senator Harding himself a member of organized labor and knows how to discriminate in the handling of the many perplexing issues between labor and capital.

He is an avowed advocate of collective bargaining and in announcing his attitude toward labor in its broader aspects, he said:

"The human element comes first, and I want the employers in industry to understand the aspirations, the convictions, the yearnings of millions of American wage earners."

The speech commends the candidacy of Senator Harding to the American people and is well worth study by those who seek to know the great issues that will characterize the presidential campaign of 1920, the most important and vital to the republic since the Civil War.

It is impossible in the scope of one editorial to touch on all the issues outlined by the Republican candidate. His enunciation of the foreign policy which becomes a major issue in the campaign, not because the Republicans desired it, but because President Wilson forced it by his unyielding attitude is clear and concise.

The foreign policy of the Republican party is summed up in the declaration of Harding: "Our party means to hold the heritage of American nationality unimpaired and unsundered."

No more elaboration is necessary now. The league of nations is going to be the storm center of the campaign. In the opinion of the Tribune, the Republicans have the best of the argument and reflect more perfectly the heart of the American people in their attitude to foreign affairs.

Senator Harding voices the sentiment of millions in this:

"No man is big enough to run this great republic. There never has been one. Such domination has never been intended."

In a few words the Ohioan has focused attention upon the weakness of the Wilson administration. It is the one man government, the single track mind and the autocratic assumption of governmental functions that the American people are weary of.

His attitude upon the eighteenth amendment should satisfy the most exacting "dry" advocate. Upon this issue he said:

"I believe in law enforcement. If elected I mean to be a constitutional president, and it is impossible to ignore the constitution, unthinkable to evade the law, when our every commitment is to orderly government. People will differ about the wisdom of the enactment of a law—there is divided opinion respecting the eighteenth amendment and the laws enacted to make it operative—but there can be no difference of opinion about honest law enforcement."

And in conclusion his words to the women of the nation are significant:

"The womanhood of America, always its glory, its inspiration and the potent, uplifting force in its social and spiritual development, is about to be enfranchised. Insofar as congress can go, the fact is already accomplished. By party edict, by my recorded vote, by personal conviction I am committed to this measure of justice. It is my earnest hope, my sincere desire that the one needed state vote be quickly recorded in the affirmation of the right of equal suffrage and that the vote of every citizen shall be cast and counted in the approaching election.

"Let us not share the apprehensions of many men and women as to the danger of this momentous extension of the franchise. Women have never been without influence in our political life. Enfranchisement will bring to the polls the votes of citizens who have been born upon our soil, or who have sought in faith and assurance the freedom and opportunities of our land. It will bring the women educated in our schools, trained in our customs and habits of thought, and sharers of our problems. It will bring the alert mind, the awakened conscience, the sure intuition, the abhorrence of tyranny or oppression, the wide and tender sympathy that distinguish the women of America. Surely there can be no danger there."

THE RIGHT ACTION

Burleigh county Republicans did right in bolting the soviet committee bossed by Comrade "Bill" Prater of home building fame. The law under which the Nonpartisans organized a so-called Republican county committee is a farce. They represent no one but the Townley organization and take their orders from a carbon copy sent by the league bosses in St. Paul.

In the resolutions which the socialists, masquerading as Republicans, adopted there was no mention of Harding or Coolidge, nothing to indicate that they wanted to take on more than the party label. In this respect at least the Burleigh county socialists were sincere. They are not Republicans, but for the purposes of practical politics it is necessary to have the label and what prestige that may give them with some of the voters who are not yet aroused to the actual situation.

The process of awakening, however, is going on. Two years ago in this county only one or two voices were lifted in defense of Republican principles. Wednesday there were twenty-one precinctmen who thought enough of the Republican party to fight for resolutions endorsing Harding and Coolidge and to reaffirm their faith in the principles of the party as formulated by Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt. There were sneers and laughter at the mention of Washington and Lincoln from the soviet side of the county Republican meeting.

Burleigh county has been wrested from the soviet column and the work to keep her out of the list of red counties will go on untiringly. The excellent organization headed by H. P. Goddard is to be retained. Mr. Fogarty, as county chairman, will assist greatly and Mr. Koffel has been returned to his old post as member of the regenerated state central Republican committee.

Goddard, Fogarty and Koffel will work harmoniously for a smashing victory this fall for the anti-Townley legislative ticket and for the national, Republican ticket.

The soviet committee headed by Trygg and his comrades is at liberty to support Debs or Christensen, the third party presidential candidate, as consciences or Townley may dictate.

The Moscow must be very closely related to the odorous ram-goat.

A peach of a girl with a heart of stone is a risky combination for martial ties.

An English writer has gall enough to ask: "Is America Dying?" No, America's not that kind of a girl.

The Bolsheviks have captured Poniatyoz and Viazyn. Only the Bolsheviks can tell whether these are towns or animals.

Governor Catts of Florida, has refused to call an extra session of the legislature to ratify the suffrage amendment. Now women know what it is to be cats.

If all these pretty women questioned in the Elwell case took as much interest in his life as they take in his death, that old boy is missing a whole lot by being dead.

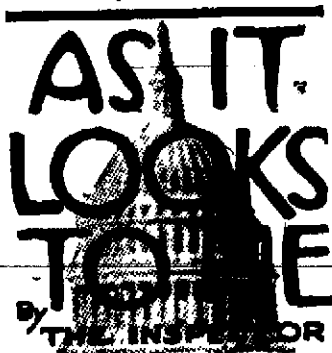

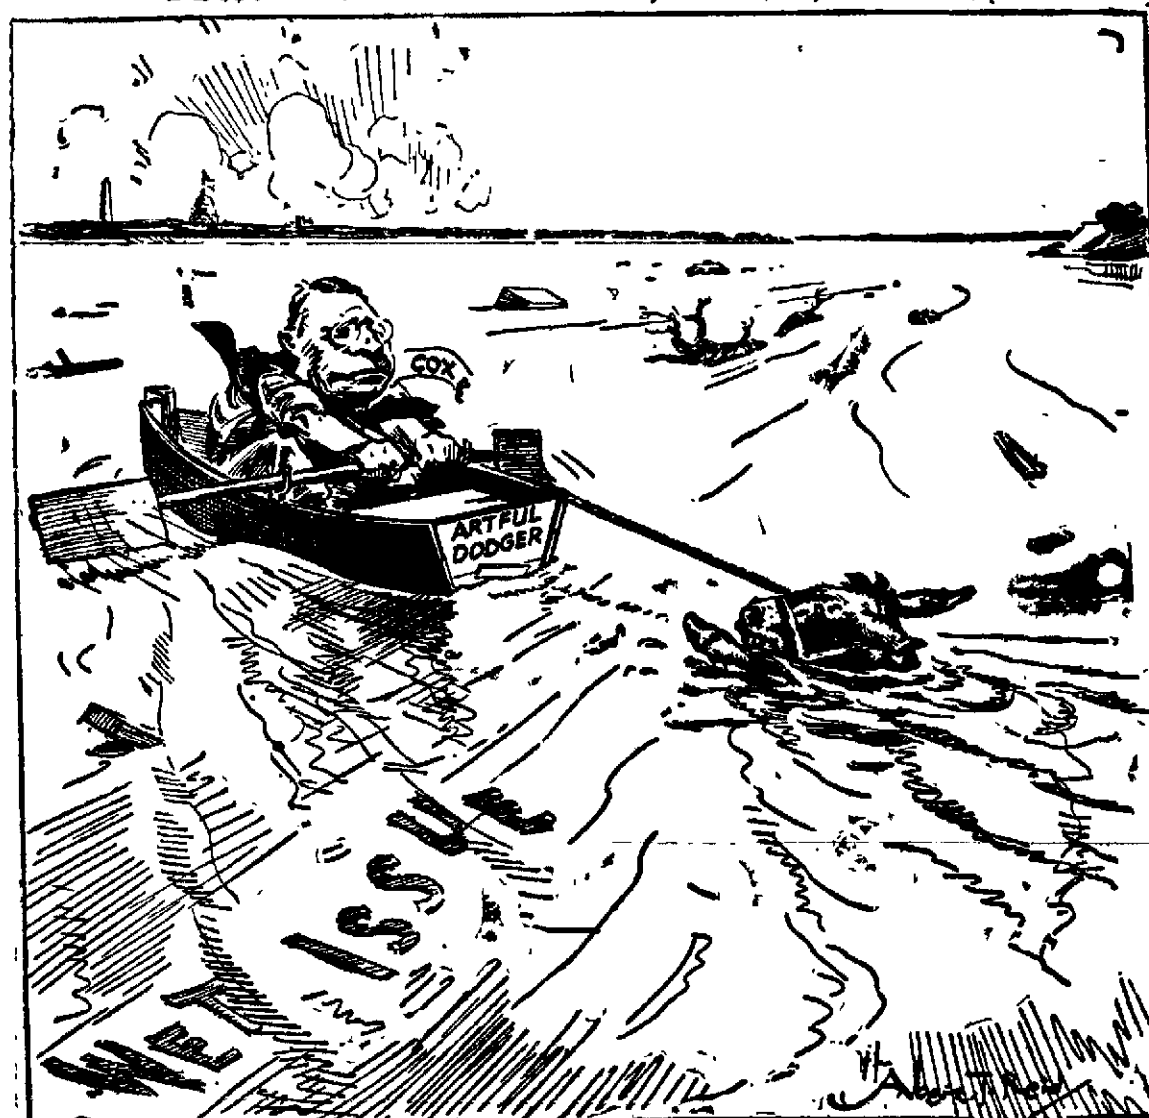

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinions of the Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

HARDING'S IRATE FATHER-IN-LAW

When Florence Kling married Warren G. Harding, editor, she did it in defiance of her father's threat to disinherit her. Her father was Amos H. Kling, banker, and he had no use for the man who was then trying to put the Marion Daily Star on its feet. When his daughter told him she was going to be Mrs. Harding, there was an explosion. Not only did he disapprove of the marriage, but also he put his disapprobation into vigorous language, and then did his best to live up to it. For years Mr. Kling would not speak to his daughter or to his rising son-in-law. Not until Kling, Sr., developed political ambitions and found, to his great surprise, that the Marion Star supported him instead of fighting him, did the parental wrath give way to reconciliation. Later, say the friends of the Klings and the Hardings, Mr. Kling liked to tell his friends that he had noted the symptoms of young Harding's future greatness even before his daughter had done so, but his daughter only smiled when her father boasted of being one of the "original Harding men"—Oswald F. Schuette, in Leslie's.

THEN HE'LL ROW, ROW, ROW!

Washington, D. C. July 23.—Samuel Gompers, the venerable head of the American Federation of Labor, is at last to become a property owner much against his will. For years Sam has fought this peril, but finally unfortunate circumstances over which he had no control, have so hemmed him in that escape seems impossible.

For some time Gompers owned his home on First street in the Capital city, but it was in the name of his daughter, and that circumstance kept the labor chief out of the ranks of the bourgeoisie. When he moved to 25th street that home was also put in the name of his daughter.

Two years ago his daughter died, but the house was then put in his wife's name, and Gompers remained as free as ever from the burdens of real estate. Recently, however, his wife died. Her will is about to be probated, and it looks very much as though the head of the federation will have to consent to accept the nominal as well as the actual ownership of the house.

The National Woman's Party during its six-year campaign to get congress to submit the suffrage amendment and in getting the states to ratify, has spent close to $1,000,000. Inasmuch as mere man stood in the way of woman's rights, it was money well spent.

And even now the women are being compelled to raise $10,000 more to make a campaign in Tennessee for ratification, all because Governor Clement of Vermont won't call a special session where ratification would be certain if the Legislature could get together.

If the opposition to progress could just learn, from experience, to yield when it sees victory is certain, much would be saved and there would be less agitation.

CROP SUMMARY

Washington, D. C., July 23.—The weather was cool over the north-central states but normal temperature prevailed over the Great Plains. There was abundant moisture generally east of the Rocky mountains. The weather was favorable for the development of crops in nearly all sections. Farm work was delayed from the Ohio valley eastward and in parts of the South. Conditions were favorable for harvesting, threshing and cultivation elsewhere.

Corn needs rain in western Texas.

NUMERAL 3 IS LUCKY NUMBER FOR GOVERNOR COX, HIS FRIENDS SAY

Washington, July 23.—The number 13 has played a prominent part in Woodrow Wilson's official career and has been connected with many of his pieces of luck.

Now comes the numeral 3 to aid "Jim" Cox, whom most democrats believe will be Woodrow Wilson's successor. Miss Helen Glinther, 18 years old, a daughter of the editor of Governor Cox's farm journal, has discovered how the third numeral figures prominently in the career of the Ohio governor. Here is what she finds.

There are three letters in his last name which begins with the third letter of the alphabet.

He was three times governor of Ohio.

He worked on three newspapers.

He held three positions at once in Middletown.

He was nominated on the third day of balloting.

He was one of the "big three" at the convention.

When balloting started he was third on the list of nominees.

He is running for his third political office.

If elected he will be third democratic president since 1860.

Miss Glinther says she hopes on Nov. 3 it will be announced that Cox has been elected.

but made splendid growth in the Mississippi valley and the Great Plains, and satisfactory growth in the Ohio Valley notwithstanding the lack of moisture in that section.

Harvesting and threshing of winter wheat made satisfactory progress. Spring wheat was favorably affected by the weather and developed well, except that rust damage was reported in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and South Dakota. The damage was considerable in Iowa but was comparatively little damage elsewhere.

Pastures, meadows and fruit made generally good progress.

of the digestion and the care given by their possessor.

Indigestion causes tooth decay by disturbing the mouth secretions which normally tend to wash out food and neutralize any fermentation acids formed.

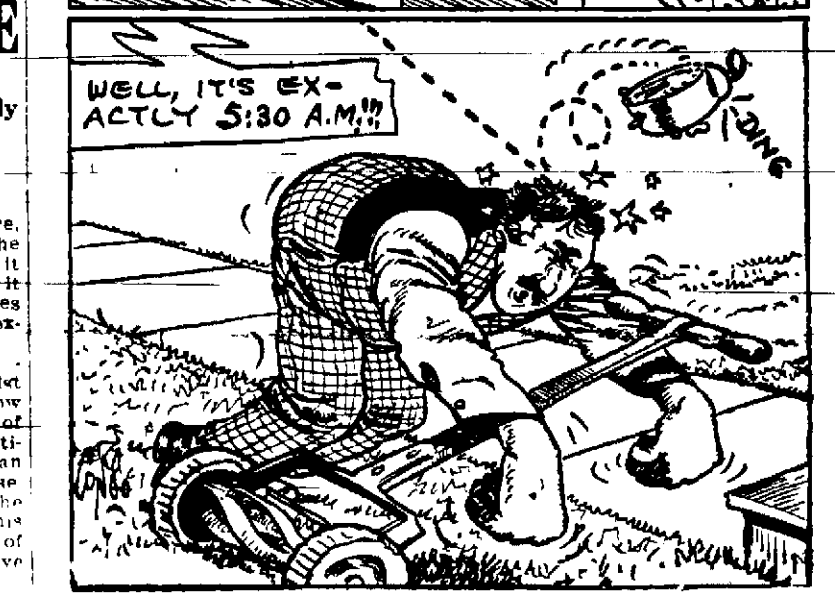

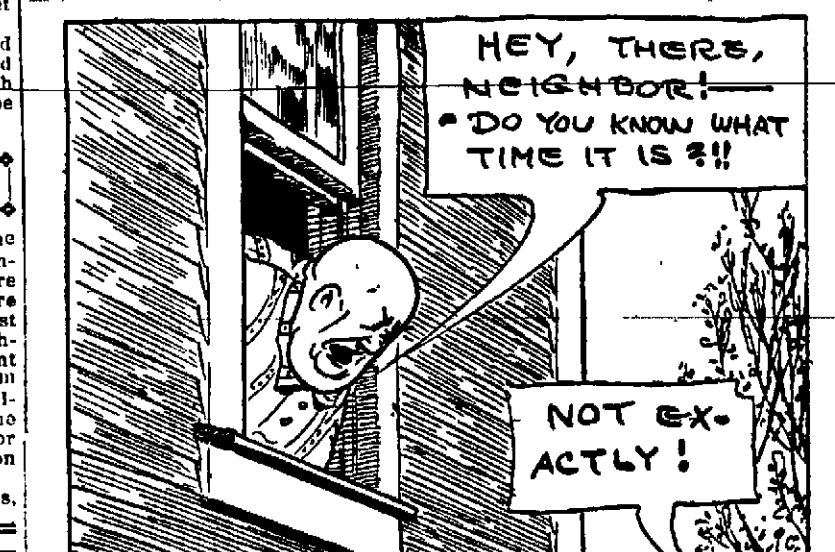

Good care of the teeth involves cleaning them after each meal and never to permit particles of food to lie between them. Plain water and a tooth brush is all that is required. Apart from this care every one should at the first indication of decay in any tooth and always at least once a year, have the teeth carefully examined by a dentist, and have any defects found remedied at once.

Q. Please give me some information regarding treatment of hydrocele.

A. The treatment of hydrocele varies. Sometimes a simple tapping to withdraw the fluid, followed by an injection of some irritant, such as carbolic acid, suffices to effect a cure. In other instances more radical operation is required to prevent the return of the fluid. You should consult a good surgeon.

Q. Please advise me if there is any danger in "Keloid."

"WAS WORTH ITS WEIGHT IN GOLD," STATES THIS MAN

"If everybody knew how much good Tanlac has done me there isn't any one who wouldn't think as I do—that it is worth its weight in gold and should be in every home," said Gust Kirchhoff, 432 West Central avenue, St. Paul, Minn., an employee of the Foote Schuiz Shoe company.

"When I started taking Tanlac I had been suffering from spells of nervous indigestion for the past eleven years. Whenever these spells came on me I would blot up something awful for two or three days at a time and have intense sharp, shooting pains in the region of my heart. These attacks always left me in a very weakened condition and I was unable to work for several days following them. Many a night I would walk the floor in agony that was almost unbearable, and I could never get a good night's sleep; for when I wasn't lying awake with pain I would toss and roll from one side of the bed to the other on account of nervousness, and always got up feeling tired and worn out. I was also very constipated and frequently had severe nervous headaches, and was in a badly run-down condition generally."

"Since I began taking Tanlac, however, all my troubles are things of the past. It has built me up and strengthened me so that my work doesn't tire me any more. I never have a headache and my stomach is in splendid condition. I haven't had an attack of nervous indigestion since I started taking Tanlac, and my appetite is so good I can hardly get enough to eat. I have been telling everybody I could about Tanlac, but I know I can't speak to everybody personally, so I am glad of this opportunity to tell others what a grand medicine I think Tanlac is."

Tanlac is sold in Bismarck by Jos. Breslow, in Driscoll by C. D. and J. H. Barrette, in Wing by H. P. Homan and in Strasburg by Strausburg Drug Co. —adv.

A. The condition known as "keloid" is not amenable to treatment, but it need give you no special concern, for it is not a malignant condition. The nature and cause of keloid are still imperfectly understood.

Q. Recently I saw an article which stated that the cancer germ had been discovered in impure drinking water. Is this true?

A. There is absolutely no truth in the statement that the cancer germ has been discovered, or that this germ is present in impure drinking water. As a matter of fact there is as yet no conclusive evidence that the disease is due to any kind of germ whatever. If you will send me your name and address I will be glad to send you a helpful pamphlet entitled "Cancer, Facts which Every Adult Should Know."

Where Soft Drinks Originated.

A Philadelphia writer says that there is not much inspiration for poetry in soda water.

Let it be remembered that another "first" to be credited to Philadelphia is for the manufacture of soda water—that is to say, the commonly accepted beverage with fruit syrups.

It was made by Eugene Roussel, who conducted a perfumery establishment here about a century ago.

Moreover, the Philadelphia centennial finally confirmed the important place of the industry and the popularity of the beverage in the United States. Robert M. Green began to build soda fountains in '74, showed one at the centennial, and at the Franklin Institute exposition, held not long thereafter, dispensed his new invention, "ice cream soda," to an increasing throng that presently was paying $200 a day over the counter for the seductive new "soft drinks."

With the present soda water and soda fountain business approximating one billion dollars a year, this Philadelphia born industry is still in its infancy. But what a prodigious infant it is!—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Nickel Coins Again.

An innovation in currency has been made by the Indian government, which has coined and issued nickel 8-anna and 4-anna pieces. Two-anna and 1-anna pieces have been in circulation in India for many years, but hitherto no nickel coins of a value equal to the new issue have been in use in any country—in fact, the 8-anna piece is credited with being the highest-valued coin struck in base metal in the world, its recent sterling exchange value being 1 shilling 2 pence, or 24 cents, at normal values. The Indian government was influenced in its decision to issue the new coins by the high price of silver, and it is probable that one result of the innovation will be to cause the 8-anna silver coins to disappear.—Brooklyn Eagle.

EVENTS AND GOSSIP FOR THE FANS

THREE WEEKS OF FAST RACING IS ON THE PROGRAM

Grand Circuit Meet at Columbus, Ohio, Shows Popularity of the Sport

BIG PURSES ARE OFFERED

Columbus, O., July 23.—Columbus, the only city in the country which gives three weeks of Grand Circuit horse racing, will hold its annual mid-summer meeting starting Monday, July 26. Late in September after the Grand Circuit horses make their swing through the east, two more weeks of racing will be given here.

The entry list for next week's meeting is the largest in the history of the Columbus Driving association for a summer meet. More than 100 horses are entered in the six stakes events, while the class races and the three-year-old pace which will be staged by the American Trotting Horse Breeders' association will bring the total entry list up to 400. It is believed, and many people believe, that the racing will be the best of the season.

Purses and stakes aggregating $35,000 have been hung up for the twenty races which are down for decision during the five days of racing. There will be one innovation this year—all races on the Columbus track will be on the three heatplan with the exception of the colts races, which will be best two in three heats.

The program follows:
Monday, July 26: Free-for-all pace, $1,500; 2:07 trot, $1,000; 2:05 pacing stake, $3,000; three-year-old, Favorite Pacing Futurity, $2,500.

Tuesday, July 27: 2:20 trot for two-year-olds, $1,000; 2:11 trotting stake, $3,000; 2:10 pace, $1,000; 2:05 trotting stake, $2,500.

Wednesday, July 28: Free for all trot, $1,000; 2:07 pace $1,000; 2:08 pacing stake $3,000; 2:02 pace, $1,000.

Thursday, July 29: 2:08 trotting stake $3,000; 2:10 trot for three-year-olds $1,000; 2:11 pacing stake $3,000; 2:11 trot, $1,000; 2:14 pace, $1,000; 2:15 trot, $1,000; 2:04 pace, $1,000; 2:13 trot, $1,000.

RUTH BRINGS IN THE COIN

New York, July 23.—Attendance records were made during the Yankee White Sox series that ended here yesterday. In four days, the turnstiles registered 129,000 customers, an average of more than 32,000 a day. Saturday 36,000 were in the big yard.

CUBS SIGN TWO NEW PITCHERS

Chicago, July 23.—Two pitchers were signed today by the Chicago Cubs. They are Joe Jaeger, an overseas veteran who has been playing with the Fort Sheridan team, and Perry Jones of the Eastland club of the West Texas league. Jaeger is from St. Cloud, Minn. He is a right hander and will report at once. Jones will report at the close of the West Texas league season.

LOOKS AS GOOD AS EVER

JACK DEMPSEY

A year's absence from the boxing ring doesn't seem to have changed the appearance or the fighting desires of Jack Dempsey. As a rule long layoffs don't do a boxer any good but the champion is back with the declaration that he is not afraid of any man living, and he seems to have intimidated the best Europe has produced.

GOOD BASEBALL IS SCHEDULED FOR THE FANS

Napoleon and Mandan Come in Games, and Contests are Obtained with Wilton

MANDAN FANS ARE COMING

Napoleon was on the schedule to play Bismarck at capital ball park at 6:30 p. m. today.

The Napoleon team has been going good, and a fast game was expected by the Bismarck managers.

Preparations are being made for a great crowd at capital park Sunday when Mandan plays a return game and tries to retrieve a 3 to 1 defeat. Mandan, it is understood, will have Boardman, a pitcher with a considerable rep. in the box for the game.

Mandan rooters, according to word from over there, are coming in full force. The Bismarck club will be in excellent shape by Sunday. Captain Dolly Elder's arm, which has been troubling him for two weeks, is somewhat improved. He played in the last game against Valley City under the handicap of this injury and absence from the game for two weeks.

Full of Fight
Every fight after the defeat by the Valley team, and is out to take Napoleon and Mandan in tow.

The management of the team received a lot of commendation from fans for fencing off of the grounds in front of the grandstand prohibiting overzealous persons from crowding on the players' benches, and interfering with the game.

Rep Spreads
The reputation made by the Bismarck team has brought requests for a number of games. A deal was on to play Eureka, S. D., one of the best semi-pro teams in that state at Lincon, but the Eureka team disbanded.

A game has been scheduled with Wilton at Wilton on August 1 and at Bismarck on August 8.

MAKE TRY FOR BOXING BILL

Chicago, July 23.—Clean boxing and publicity sanctioned no-decision contests are urged in a draft of a boxing bill to be submitted next January at the general assembly of the state of Illinois. The bill, as outlined by the Illinois Boxing Fans' association, asks for a state athletic commission of five members to be appointed by the governor, two members of the commission to have been an instructor or athletic director in some branch of the service during the recent world conflict and the other three to be civilians of at least 15 years' experience in athletics.

UNKNOWN TONGUE TO HIM

"Gynecologist" Was Attacked Too Much for the Hotel Waiter, So He Made It "Dentist."

Down in Park Row, in a place where a broad and generous liberality marks the observance of the wartime prohibition law, a dozen sporting writers gathered, just casually, the other night. Inevitably, they began to remember and recount the funny things that happened in Cincinnati and Chicago. And, of course, the discussion proceeded to the point where some one had to decide what was really the funniest thing, and finally it was decided that "Hyge" Igoe's story, which was credited to Manager Hawks of the Gibson house, was entitled to the prize.

In keeping with modern methods, they have, at the Gibson, a system whereby employees of the hotel are furnished with information about what is going on in the house. It is advantageous for the employees to be fully informed, anyway, and it is desirable that they may be able to intelligently answer questions which may be addressed to them by the guests. Therefore, a bulletin is posted at the headwaiter's desk in each restaurant and at other places in the hotel conveying general information which employees should have.

Two guests arriving in the dining room for breakfast one morning, noticed a number of individuals at other tables wearing badges.

"Who are those people with badges on?" one of them asked the colored waiter.

"Jess a minute, boss," replied the waiter. "Ah'll fin' out for you in Jess a minute."

The waiter hustled over to the bulletin board with a confident air. He studied around uncertainly. There wasn't another waiter in sight and the dining room was all but deserted. He gave the bulletin board a palmed and regretful glance. This is what was posted there:

"Convention this week of the National Association of Gynecologists, Obstetricians and Anesthetists."

The waiter returned to the table where he was serving and busied himself assiduously but silently with the dishes and silver. After he had put each knife and fork in three new positions, the questioner at the table said: "Did you find out who those men are with the badges on?"

"Oh, yes, boss," he replied. He had the air of one who has just casually overlooked a perfectly trivial matter. "Yes, boss," he said, as he polished a glass and held it up to the light to observe the effect. "dem are de—dem, are de dentists."—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Diversity Among Students

The influence of personal ability or mental habit on such scientific work as making astronomical drawings has been the subject of interesting experiments by T. L. MacDonald at the University of Glasgow. A drawing of Mars by Artoniadi, a photograph of the moon, and another picture were submitted to six students, who were requested to make copies but were given no suggestion as to what should be visible or how it should be drawn.

The diversity of the drawings produced was surprising and curious. Each student showed special skill in noting some one feature—either canals, lakes, or gradations of shading—and the student who best drew the canals saw the smallest number of shadings. The distinguishing characteristics of each individual persisted remarkably through all his drawings. It is concluded that planetary astronomers may be divided into three classes: "distinguished by canal, spot and shade sensitiveness—and that their drawings should be subject to corresponding corrections."

Cuba Hit Timely

Chicago, July 23.—Erratic fielding behind Meadows, coupled with opportunity hitting by Chicago, enabled the locals to defeat Philadelphia, 3 to 2.

Score:
Philadelphia . . . 010 001 000—2 9 6
Chicago . . . 100 008 002—4 3 1
Batteries: Meadows and Wheat; Tyler and Daly.

Overturns St. Louis
St. Louis, July 23.—Boston trailed St. Louis for eight innings, then rallied in the ninth, scoring two runs and winning, 5 to 4.

Score:
Boston . . . 000 002 012—5 8 1
St. Louis . . . 004 000 000—4 12 0
Batteries: Gaschgar, McCallahan and Gody; O'Neill, Schupp, Haines and Clemens.

Barnes Beats Reds
Cincinnati, July 23.—Barnes held Cincinnati in check and New York won, 2 to 1. Luque also pitched fine ball.

HE IS LAST WORD IN FENCING

Grace, speed and cleverness are all combined in the performances of Arthur S. Lyon, holder of the American championships for 1916, 1917 and 1919 in fencing. His flashy work with the steel has insured him a place on the American team which will compete at Antwerp in the Olympiad.

HARDING'S AGGRESSIVE CAMPAIGN PLEASING TO NOMINEE'S ADVISERS

Marion, Ohio, July 23.—The aggressive fighting temper which Warren G. Harding has shown in the first two weeks of his front porch campaign is meeting with enthusiastic approval.

The Republican presidential nominee has surprised even his closest friends by his readiness to pull off his coat and give blow for blow.

Senator Harding has failed to justify the fears of some advisers who opposed the front porch campaign, thinking the nominee would settle down in a rocking chair and let his opponent take the lead. It can be said there was some apprehension after Governor Cox was nominated because of the Ohio governor's reputation as a fighter.

According to Republican observers who declare attacks on the Democratic candidate's League of Nations stand, Senator Harding has raised a number of questions which Governor Cox will be forced to answer early in the campaign. There is a feeling here, however, that Governor Cox is not through talking and none will be surprised if the Democratic nominee fires a volley of pointed questions at Senator Harding.
